SO THAT GOOD MAY BECOME: A CONVERSATION ON ANTHROPOSOPHY TODAY

John Bloom

In this evening of conversation, we will explore what is evolving in the life of the Anthroposophical Society both in the US and internationally. We will also look at the conditions we face today and how Rudolf Steiner's work can inform and support how we convey an imagination of the human being—as inspiration and nourishment for the continuing development of soul and social life. How might we organize all of our activities so that good may become of our deeds as individuals and as organizations?

JOHN BLOOM: GENERAL SECRETARY, ANTHROPOSOPHICAL Society in America. As VP/Organizational Culture at RSF Social Finance in San Francisco, he has developed innovative philanthropic programs and contributed to the organization's thought leadership. He has worked with over 100 non-profits in capacity building and culture change, was administrator at San Francisco Waldorf School, and helped found Live Power Community Farm and CSA.

THE WORLD INSIDE THE WORLD

Elizabeth Bram

03 Saturday 3:00-5:00pm, special fees Watercolor painting workshop

FOR THE LOVE OF COLOR

Gosha Karpowicz

We live in a world of color, yet it takes attention and sensitivity to notice and become aware how colors influence our mood and overall wellbeing. Color is a language of the soul. At the same time, the Spiritual Being of Color reflects and assists us in creating greater harmony within ourselves. This is a friendly class where we will explore the gentleness of the Being of Color and its harmonizing effects on a human being. Using cool primary colors, hopefully we explore a bit for ourselves, why they possess special qualities of being, luster of life, luster of spirit and luster of soul. It is a practical and experiential workshop, and not heavily rooted in theories or esoteric studies at this point. Be prepared to play and let the magic of colors unfold.

We will be painting with liquid colors on wet paper. The class is appropriate for anyone, regardless of age or experience level, inspired to spend meaningful time with color beings.

Fees: $40: $30 workshop, $10 all materials provided. No discounts or frequency tickets, but $5 off if you register by May 27 in the bookstore or by calling ASNYC. (Regular price starting in the Fall will be $50, $40 plus $10 materials.) Questions? Call Gosha at 646.808.7938.

GOSHA KARPOWICZ: TAUGHT HIGH school art for 13 years at Green Meadow Waldorf School and was visiting faculty at the Rudolf Steiner College and Sunbridge College. Born in Poland, she offers group classes and private lessons in NYC and looks forward to regular workshops at Anthroposophy NYC in the Fall.
